All the petitioners appeared for admission to General Training Nursing Course. By interim order, they were given admission provisionally and undergone the said course and their results have also been declared by the Council.

Since petitioners have passed out the said course, the question which has been raised does not call for any adjudication at this stage.

In change circumstances, the writ petitions have become infructuous and are disposed of in above terms. If certificates of passing out the said course have not been issued by the Council, the same may be issued to respective petitioners on submitting application.
